MAY NOT WAIT ON GRAND JURY

Coroner A. G. Shauck Says Today
Harris Verdict Might be on File Before April 22.

WHEN GRAND JURY WILL MEET

Not be Safe to Say it Will Not be,
he Declares—Few Witnesses
Yet.

It is probable that a verdict will be filed in the Harris case before the special session of the grand jury. It has been intimated that a verdict would not be made public until the grand jury conducted an investigation.

Coroner A. G. Shauck said today that it was not probable the finding would be withheld until after the grand jury convenes. It can not be more than two weeks because the grand jury will be in session by that time.

"It is not very likely that the verdict will be held off until after the grand jury meets," said Dr. Shauck over the telephone from his home in Arlington today. "I have two or three witnesses to see yet before I complete the inquiry."

Dr. Shauck was reminded of the fact that there was a story going the rounds here that the finding would not likely be placed on file in the clerk's office until after the grand jury had gone in session. The coroner said it would not be safe to say that a verdict would not be filed before that time.

The grand jury meets Monday, April 22, which is two weeks from next Monday. Ordinarily the grand jury would not meet until the September term of the Rush circuit court. The court calendar calls for two sessions of the grand jury each year, the September and February terms.

But it will be remembered Judge Blair issued a call for a special session of the grand jury to convene the opening day of the April term of court, Monday, April 22. This session was called apparently for the purpose of returning an indictment against William Blakemon, who was charged with blackmail. He was indicted on that charge by the last grand jury, but the indictment was found to be faulty and had to be quashed. Blakemon's attorneys brought a habeas corpus proceeding against the negro's freedom, but the court held against them and called a grand jury to investigate.

It has been intimated for some time that the Blakemon case was not the real purpose for calling the grand jury. It has been said that the intent of Judge Blair was to have a grand jury ready to conduct a probe in the Harris case.

But Coroner Shauck's assertion puts a new light on the situation. It has been rumored, and taken by consent, that the verdict would not be filed until the grand jury had made an investigation also.

Almost four weeks have elapsed since the burnt remains of Mrs. Harris' body were found in the ruins of her home at Ashland farm. The tragedy happened Tuesday afternoon, March 12. The coroner has been holding inquests now and then ever since. He said he did not expect to come to Rushville today.

Basil Daum of Connersville has been appointed agent for the I. & C. in Shelbyville to succeed Clarence Pile, who resigned. Mr. Daum has been in charge of the Connersville office of the company.

John P. Scott was today appointed administrator of the estate of Jesse P. Scott by the clerk of the circuit court.

DISAPPEARS FROM HOME.

Former Knightstown Man Leaves
Suddenly For Parts Unknown.

Fred Foxworthy of Vinton, Iowa, formerly of Knightstown and a son of Arthur Foxworthy of Morristown, disappeared from his home on March 25, and as yet has not been located. Mr. Foxworthy visited in Knightstown about three weeks ago and while there acted strangely and appeared not himself mentally. He was supposed to be suffering from nervous trouble. He returned to his home in Iowa and remained for a short time, when he disappeared leaving no hint as to where he was going.

OWEN KINCAID DIES OF CANCER

Funeral Services of Well Known Man
Will be Held at Residence
Sunday Afternoon, 3:30.

BORN AND REARED IN RUSH

Owen Kincaid, age fifty-seven, died at his home at 918 North Morgan street last night at ten-thirty o'clock of cancer of the stomach. He had been suffering for several weeks with the disease.

Mr. Kincaid was the son of John and Sarah O. Kincaid. He was born on a farm in Richland township October 6, 1854. He spent all of his life on the home farm with the exception of the last seven years, when he and his wife have lived in this city. He was the only child. Mr. Kincaid had been employed by the Bowker Fertilizer Company of Cincinnati since moving to this city.

The funeral services will be held at the family residence Sunday afternoon at three-thirty o'clock, conducted by the local Christian Scientists. Burial will be in East Hill cemetery. Willard Kincaid, who died several years ago, was the only child born to Mr. and Mrs. Kincaid. Mr. Kincaid's mother died at his home recently, and his widow survives.

Friends may call at any time to view the body.

WEALTHY FARMER DIES AT MILROY

George Hume, Age 83, Expires After Illness Extending Over Period of Several Years.

George Hume, age eighty-three, a wealthy and retired farmer of Anderson township, died at his home in Milroy last night at eleven o'clock. His death was expected as he had been in a critical condition for the past month. For several years he had been in poor health and had been unable to do any work. Mr. Hume was a very successful farmer. He had been residing in Milroy a number of years.

He was a member of the Christian church. The deceased is survived by a widow and one grandson, P. V. Burton of Joplin, Missouri, owner and editor of the Joplin News-Herald. The funeral services will be held in the Milroy Christian church tomorrow afternoon if the grandson arrives by that time.

Showers and colder tonight. Sunday fair and colder.

DEATH RECALLS LOCAL SHOOTING

Jacob G. Wolf, Wounded by John McCarty at Carthage, Years Ago, Expires in Missouri.

CARRIES BULLET TO GRAVE

Shooting During Temperance Fight
at Quaker Town—McCarty Served Term For Deed.

Jacob Grove Wolf, senior member of the firm of J. G. Wolf & Sons, owners of the Brown laundry and also several wood and coal yards in Marion, and one of the best known business men in Grant county, died at his home in Marion Friday, surrounded by all the members of his family, following an illness resulting from two strokes of paralysis which he suffered last November. He was sixty-five years old.

The death of Mr. Brown recalls a shooting at Carthage many years ago. At the time he operated a flour mill in Carthage remonstrances were circulated to oust the saloons of the Quaker village. Mr. Brown was always particularly active all his life in fighting for the cause of temperance and he was one of the leaders of the "dry" in Carthage.

John McCarty, who is dead now, but who will be remembered by many people in Rush county, was a saloon keeper and sought to open a saloon in Carthage. After the temperance forces defeated the saloon element, McCarty deliberately shot Mr. Brown.

Mr. Brown's life hung by a thread, but he finally recovered. He carried the bullet shot from the gun of the enraged saloon keeper to his grave. McCarty was tried and convicted, and served a short term in the State penitentiary for the deed.

The deceased was born at Morristown March 4, 1847, and spent the early part of his life in and around his native town. When the call came for volunteers to free the slaves Mr. Wolf enlisted in the Thirty-third Indiana infantry, although not yet at an age that would admit him to the ranks. He was seventeen years of age. He saw service in a number of the major battles of the civil war, and was with Sherman on his famous march to the sea.

Returning from the rebellion he entered Earlham college and later attended business college in Indianapolis. After completing his work at Earlham, December 31, 1863, he was married to Miss Mary Katherine Robinson at Fountain City, at the age of twenty-two years.

At Morristown he spent the greater part of his life owning and operating a flour mill there, for many years it being the only roller flour mill for miles around. Later he purchased controlling interest in the bank at that place and gave his attention to the interests of the financial institution, although he still retained active management of his other business affairs.

In 1887 the deceased purchased a flour mill at Carthage, and moved his family to that town, operating the mill there for eleven years. After several heavy losses by fire at Carthage he went to Knightstown, Ind., where he owned a mill for two years and went to Marion in September, 1890, to manage a flour mill. In succeeding years he opened a wholesale flour house and coal yards and purchased a laundry in Marion.

Last Autumn Mr. Wolf suffered two paralytic strokes, which greatly weakened his condition, causing him to retire from active business life. His condition did not improve, and in February he and Mrs. Wolf went to St. Petersburg, Fla., where they had hoped to find the climate more favorable. Continued on page eight.

FEW FARMERS IN CITY TODAY

Handicapped by Bad Weather Majority Are Busily Engaged Catching Up With Spring Work.

FIRST FURROWS ARE TURNED

Corn and Oats Acreage Will be Large
Because of Failure of Wheat Crop.

There were fewer farmers in Rushville today than has been the case for several months. Today was the first Saturday that farmers were kept at home by spring work. In view of the fact that it has been delayed so long by the weather, farmers are busily engaged in working from the rising of the sun until its setting to catch up. Many began ploughing Thursday, and it is said by one farmer today that he believed there was not a farm in Rush county where a plough had not been started by today.

Ordinarily the farmers of Rush county have an opportunity to do much "breaking" in the winter months. Such a thing was not possible this winter. There had not been a time since early last November up to the middle of the current week that a plow could be put in the ground. Rush county had practically five months of frost. It was the longest period of cold ever recorded here.

Every farmer in the county is anxiously awaiting the arrival of the spring pastures. The long, hard winter has practically exhausted feed for live stock. Prices for hay are prohibitive and corn and oats are soaring. Nothing can improve the situation except the opening of pastures. Live stock in Rush county has wintered well, considering it has had to subsist for five months on dry feed, but it is beginning to show the need of green stuff.

Even if the weather continues favorable there will not be many pastures in condition to receive stock for two weeks yet. Dairymen in particular are anxious for the time to arrive when they can turn their cows into the blue grass.

Because of the determination of many farmers to plow their wheat, the acreage for corn and oats in Rush county will be somewhat larger than usual this year. In an average season much of the oats is in the ground by this time in April. This year oats sowing will not be completed much before the first of May. It is not unlikely there will be many fields sowed considerably later than that. It is not unusual to see gardens made by the last week in March. This year the onion sets, the beans, the peas, the lettuce and radish seed and the sugar corn will not be in the ground until considerably after the middle of April.

As yet definite information as regards the orchards and the berry vines of the county is lacking. Many of the farmers say the peaches are killed. Several have reported that their peach trees are dead—victims of the frost king's long and severe reign. Most of the growers think there is a good chance for apples, cherries and pears, and a considerable number think the berry crop will come along all right.

DIES SUDDENLY.

Word has been received here of the sudden death of Lewis Burk, at his home, near Charlottesville, Indiana. Yesterday, while about some duties on his farm, Mr. Burk was stricken with a sudden illness, and died soon afterward. The particulars of his ailments have not been learned. A widow survives.

PEDESTRIANS EAT DUST

High Wind Makes Day a Most Disagreeable One.

Pedestrians had to eat and breathe dust today. A regular March wind, with a velocity of many miles an hour greater than has been for some time, swept the streets clean of all the dust and debris that has collected all winter. Persons passing under awnings were in danger as the strong wind threatened to blow several down. The street sprinkler was pressed into service today for the first time this spring, but did not serve to help conditions much as the wind soon dried all the water thrown on the pavement.

NO EASTER RAIN GLADSOME NEWS

Weather Director, However, Says the Temperature May Fall Eighteen or Twenty Degrees.

MAY WEAR YOUR "GLAD RAGS"

When Verne H. Church, section director of the weather bureau in Indianapolis took up his trusty spyglass this morning and looked around for storms that might arrive in time to spoil the Easter hats, he saw some dark looking clouds settling over Wisconsin and Lake Superior. This caused him to shake his head gloomily and predict that showers and cold weather would reach Indianapolis tonight.

However, on studying the distant storm a little more carefully, he believed it was spending its forces up north to such an extent that it would not make Indiana very wet, and he feels reasonably sure that when everybody starts to church with "glad rags" on tomorrow, the rain will have ceased. While the sky is likely to be overcast, Mr. Church does not think rain will seriously interfere with the Easter parade.

However, it looks as if there will have to be winter covering for light, fluffy spring clothing, as there is likely to be a fall of the mercury of eighteen or twenty degrees.

FINED $5 AND COSTS.

Will Geiger pleaded guilty to the charge of intoxication this morning in police court and was fined five dollars and costs by Mayor Black. His fine was stayed.

GOING TO MT. VERNON.

Allen Daniels, grand master of the colored Odd Fellows lodge will leave Monday for Mt. Vernon, Ind., on a business trip in the interest of the order. Mr. Daniels will start on the annual tour of inspection about May 1.

PRICE READY TO STAND TRIAL

Attorney Base Case on Plea of Self Defense Although They Will Not Discuss It.

TRIAL STARTS WEDNESDAY

Wife and Daughter Visit Prisoner in Decatur County Jail—Trial to be Interesting.

Self-defense will be the plea made by the attorneys for Zachariah Price, charged with murder, who will be placed on trial next Wednesday, says the Greensburg paper. Price's attorneys have made no statement as to the line of defense, and probably will decline to make any prior to the calling of the case.

Attorneys Fitzgerald and Maloy were in conference with Attorneys Osborn, Hamilton and Harding Friday afternoon. Fitzgerald and Maloy, it is understood, have been gathering evidence to be used in the case.

Though a farmer and accustomed to an outdoor life, Price is doing well in the jail here. He has gained several pounds since his confinement and his health seems to be good. He eats and sleeps well and apparently is not much worried over the outcome of the case.

Friday morning Mrs. Price and her daughter were visitors at the jail. They live at Butleville. Two brothers—Fred Price of Jennings county and William Price of Rushville—also were callers.

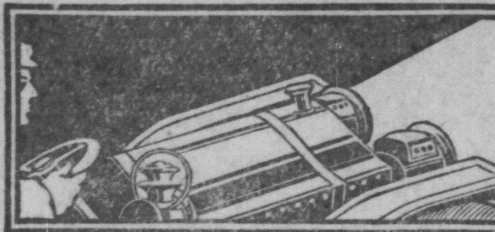

Price's wife and daughter are frequent callers at the jail. They never fail to bring the prisoners some dainty article of diet. Relatives of Price and his friends and neighbors evidently are not going to desert him.

The prospects are that this will be the most interesting case tried in the Decatur circuit court for years. While Price was not a citizen of this county, he once lived at Williamstown and is well known here. The man he killed was a Kentuckian and lived as a tenant on his farm.

FIRST MEETING MONDAY

Federated Charities Will Hold Their First Session in Library.

The first regular meeting of the Federated Charities of Rushville will be held in the rest room of the public library in the court house Monday afternoon at two o'clock. It will be remembered that the various charity organizations effected an organization last month and arranged to meet the second Monday of each month. The meeting is open to the public and everyone who is interested is urged to attend.

NORRIS MOTOR CO.
 Rushville, Ind. Phone 1445

a 1912 special model, weighing 2,300 pounds, which is 300 pounds above the minimum weight allowed in the race.
The motor has four cylinders with a bore of five and seven thirty-seconds inches, and a piston stroke of seven inches, giving a piston displacement of 597.9 cubic inches. It is believed that the motor will develop about one hundred horse-power, and it probably will be about the largest in the race.
The motor is specially built to come just within the six hundred cubic inch limit set upon the contest by the Speedway management.

The other entries to the race are two Stutz cars, to be driven by Gil Anderson and Len Zengel, with Billy Knipper as relief; two Nationals with Don Herr, Howard Wilcox and Charley Merz named as drivers; two Case cars with Harvey Herriek and Louis Dis-brow nominated as regular drivers;
two Mercedes cars with Ralph De Palma and Spencer Wishart at the wheels; one Fiat to be driven by Teddy Tetzlaff; a Simplex with Bert Dingley to drive and a Lexington to be piloted by Harry Knight.

Ralph Mulford has purchased a six-cylinder Knox which he will drive in the race, although his entry has not formally been made.

This early field of starters is considered the cream of driving and racing talent of the country, and means that the former record of 74.61 miles per hour established for the 500 miles is certain to fall in the next Memorial Day contest.

The early seat and hotel reservations which have been made indicate that the crowd will be greater than that which witnessed last year's event.
The throng which witnessed the last 500-mile race was the largest that ever passed into any one enclosure to attend a sporting contest of any description.

Ohio Driver Contracts
With Stutz Makers

LEN ZENGEL.

Len Zengel, of Dayton, Ohio, one of the greatest of motor car racing drivers, has contracted to drive one of the Stutz entries in the second annual 500-mile International Sweepstakes
race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway next Memorial Day. Zengel was winner of the Elgin national stock chassis championship event in 1911, and is looked upon as one of the big factors in the coming Speedway race.
His team-mate is Gil Anderson.

MULFORD ENTERS KNOX

FAMOUS RACE DRIVER BUYS CAR
FOR BIG 500-MILE RACE.

Youth Made Fortune in Two Years
Driving to Victory in Classic Events on Road and Track.

"Smiling Ralph" Mulford, whose name is known wherever motor car racing is thought of, has settled the question of his future career, by purchasing a six-cylinder Knox racing car to compete in the second annual 500-mile International Sweepstakes
race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway next Memorial Day, May 30. This action on the part of Mulford in cutting loose from the Lozier company for which he had been racing ever since the beginning of his career verifies the statement that the Lozier has abandoned motor car contests.

Mulford has known one of the most successful careers of any driver engaged in the hazardous sport and his income has been greater than that of even the greatest athletes in other lines of sport. In 1910 he annexed the Elgin national stock chassis road race as his chief performance of the season. In 1911 he finished second in the 500-mile race at the Speedway, won the Vanderbilt cup race at Savannah and might have known what it is to be a two time winner in one race meeting had it not been that an unfortunate accident put him out of the Grand Prize race when he was right in the lead at the last lap.

The smiling pilot has made enough money so that he has been able to go in after the $50,000 purse at the Speedway in a car owned by himself and his choice of a Knox seems to be partially the result of the performance of that car in the last Speedway five-century grind. In that race Fred Belcher drove the Knox entry and finished ninth, after nursing his car along at

See the new Maxwell Mascotte—the Great American Family Car

The Maxwell Mascotte is a big, stylish, well-built car for the family man. It meets a long-standing demand for a real family car at less than $1000.

In its design are embodied the same mechanical construction and materials—the same Maxwell qualities that won the Glidden Tour. This means a dependable car, efficient at all times.

Maxwell reliability and durability are endorsed by 49,000 Maxwell owners. The New York State records also prove these qualities—91 per cent of Maxwell cars registered in 1905 being again registered in 1911, showing seven years' continuous usage.

The Mascotte is just the car required by the family man—and at a reasonable figure.
It is unequaled by any other car selling within $200 of its price.

This price is the result of great purchasing power, unequaled manufacturing facilities and quantity production of the United States Motor Company.

Maxwell Mascotte $980

This year's Glidden Tour furnished the hardest test of automobile efficiency on record. Maxwell was the only team to finish the gruelling contest with a perfect score.

Four Maxwells finished the 1454-mile contest without a penalty, winning all trophies.
In competition with practically every other American motor car, regardless of price, Maxwell team was the only one to show 100 per cent efficiency all the way. Through heavy mud and sand, swollen streams, storm-flooded Appalachian Mountain roads—Maxwell proved its reliability under all conditions.

This is the car for you—the family man, the real backbone of the nation—and we want you and your family to come and ride in it.
See for yourself its handsome appearance—its high-grade character. If you cannot call today, make an appointment. In the meantime, write for "The Story of the Glidden Tour," "How to Judge an Auto," and the moderate speed for more than half the race. The dashing finish which this car made was one of the notable features of the long event and records show that the Knox made the fastest lap in the race. Mulford believes that he can put the famous six-cylinder motor through without trouble and outdrive his record of last year when he was but a minute and a half behind the winning Marmon.

The entry of the Knox makes the field up to date twelve cars, nearly all of which have been prominent in past motor car events. The other entries to the race are two Nationals, driven by Wilcox, Herr and Merz; two Stutz cars driven by Anderson, Zengel and Knipper; two Case cars driven by Disbrow and Jagersberger; two Mercedes cars from Germany driven by DePalma and Wishart; a Fiat with Teddy Tetzlaff named to drive; a Lexington with Harry Knight nominated, a Simplex to be driven by Bert Dingley, and Bob Burman in a Cutting.

This is by far the largest field that ever has been entered for any event more than three months ahead. The list of tentative entries brings the number of starters up to thirty, which is the limit placed by the Speedway management. The foreign cars entered are all owned privately while many of the American cars are to be entered by individuals rather than by the manufacturers. This seems to indicate that motor car racing is becoming more and more of a sporting proposition pure and simple and the commercial phase is being overshadowed.

Reservations of seats for the race and of rooms in the Indianapolis hotels have been made in vast numbers, and indications at present are that a greater crowd than the 90,000 persons which witnessed the last race will be on hand this year. The Speedway has established a room bureau and is booking a large number of rooms in private residences so that all visitors may be accommodated even if the hotels are filled.

CLIMAX OF STRUGGLE OVER BRITISH MINES

Miners' Federation Faces the Crucial Test Today.

London, April 6.—This afternoon a momentous meeting of the miners' federation is being held in London. It involves more than the question of endorsing the executive committee's recommendation that the miners return to work pending a settlement of the minimum wage by the district boards, for which it was convened. It will mark the climax of a struggle within the federation itself.

The effects produced on the miners in the various coal fields of the executive board's resolutions are widely different. Meetings of miners in Yorkshire, Durham, Northumberland and East Scotland showed bitter feeling against the executive board and complete disapproval of its resolution in favor of returning to work under the terms of the minimum wage bill. The idea that a two-thirds majority was necessary to prolong the strike was scouted; the majority shown by the ballot was held to be ample to justify its continuance.

The delegates who are representing the districts at the federation meeting today greatly outnumber those who favor a resumption of work, the proportion being 444 to 190. Therefore if a straight vote is taken the result is obvious and there is undoubtedly a possibility of the executive's resolution being overridden.

TROUBLE BREWING

Miners and Operators Losing Friendly Feeling For Each Other.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 6.—Efforts on the part of United Mine Workers to interfere with the repair work of the operators at their collieries will result in the companies calling upon the sheriff for protection, and if this official fails to give the protection needed, Governor Tener will be appealed to. This statement was made by one of the big operators here, and it is taken to mean that the companies will now attempt to show their hand. The miners declare that the threats of the companies are not scaring them in the least, and that they will resist stubbornly any effort to do more than necessary repair work.

Visit Ended in Death.

Indianapolis, April 6.—The body of a man killed in East Washington street by a streetcar was identified by Mrs. Clyde F. Mathews as that of her father, Harvey Gibbons of Royal Center, Ind. Coroner Durham brought about the identification by means of a letter found in Gibbons's pocket, written by Mrs. Mathews to him recently. He had come to Indianapolis to visit his daughter.

The Colonel's Strenuous Campaign.

Chicago, April 6.—Colonel Roosevelt is putting in his most strenuous energies today to capture Illinois for his nomination at the open primaries next Tuesday. He is whirling through the state today and on Monday will dash to Uncle Joe Cannon's district at Danville and into the home town of Congressman McKinley, the Taft leader, at Champaign.

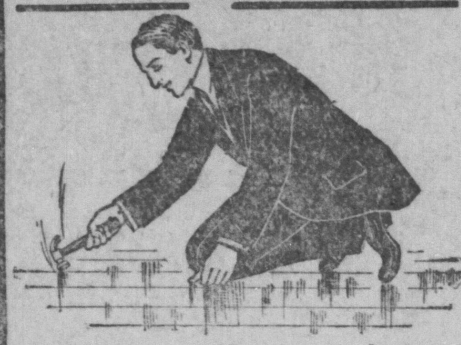

Smoker Loses Life.

South Bend, Ind., April 6.—Paul Bickford is dead of injuries received as a result of jumping from a third-story window of a hotel. He was reading and smoking and the bed caught fire, but he failed to notice the flames until they gained some headway. He leaped from the bed and then jumped out the window.

Enters a General Denial.

Columbus, Ind., April 6.—George W. Long, state senator and a Nashville (Brown county) attorney, against whom disbarment proceedings have been brought in the Bartholomew circuit court by Mrs. Mary H. Vawter of Brown county, enters a general denial to the charges made against him.

JOBS AT STAKE

Indianapolis Police Barred From Receiving Saloon Favors.

Indianapolis, April 6.—A rule prohibiting policemen from accepting cigars, drinks or food in saloons, was adopted by the board of public safety at a conference held by the board with Mayor Shank and Superintendent of Police Hyland.

"The first policeman that is found guilty of violating that rule is going to lose his job," said the mayor, in explaining the rule.

ECONOMY MEASURE

This Move, if Carried Out, Will Cost Township Officers Their Jobs.

Carmel, Ind., April 6.—A petition signed by 300 voters of this part of Hamilton county will be presented to the county commissioners, asking that Clay, Delaware and Fall Creek townships be made into two, with White river as the dividing line. The change will mean the elimination of one trustee and one assessor, thus saving the county the salaries of two men.

Marked Bills Found on Her.

Jeffersonville, Ind., April 6.—When Mrs. Sarah Zimmerla of Port Fulton selected a feather bed as a hiding place for her surplus money she marked a number of bills. She missed a roll containing $445. She suspected Mrs. Mary Gordie, who had been at the house in her absence. Investigation is said to have shown that Mrs. Gordie had several of the marked bills. She was held to the circuit court.

Effects of the Fight.

What will be the effect of the Roosevelt fight on Taft at the poll, should the president be renominated, asks the Marion Chronicle.

That depends, of course, to a considerable extent on Colonel Roosevelt himself. His speeches are ominous of a convention bolt. But it is hardly probable that Col. Roosevelt would accept the candidacy at the hands of a third party unless the Democratic national convention should nominate Harmon, which is most unlikely. Democrats would not be likely to desert any other candidate now considered as a nomination possibility for a Republican ex-president, and the best Colonel Roosevelt could hope for would be the defeat of the president he elected in 1908. A Roosevelt third party candidacy may be dismissed as a most improbable development.

Barring this contingency it may turn out that the Roosevelt uprising has really been of advantage to Taft and his party. The truth is that prior to the beginning of the contest initiated when the colonel threw his battle-worn hat in the ring, President Taft was rather indifferently accepted by the rank and file and even by the leadership of his party. It was this indifference which in part let to the Roosevelt movement. The opinion developed and grew that President Taft had no popular support. But it soon became evident that the president has a good deal of reserve popularity. In Delaware county, for instance, a popular majority was rallied for him at the polls. If the real strength of President Taft with the Republican voters had been known, possibly the argument that he could not be elected would not have been so generally accepted. Unquestionably the strength of the president grew, rather than diminished, in the face of opposition. If it should grow in a national campaign at the same ratio maintained in the pre-convention fight in Indiana, Taft's election would be a certainty by the time the ballots were cast.

President Taft has been strengthened rather than weakened by the fight that has been put on him. Republicans perhaps have as much reason to be encouraged as discouraged by the violent struggle that has been going on within the ranks during the past few weeks. It is evident at least that there is plenty of fight left in the party. If all the energy and effort Republicans have been putting into their internecine strife were turned on the opposition in Indiana, Republican success would probably be the result.

As economy is the skeleton in the congressional closet which should not be alluded to in public, we are surprised that President Taft has prepared another message on this distressing subject.

The women have always said pockets made their clothes look bulky, but the new panier gowns give them a pocket big enough to stick a bale of hay into.

What is going to become of the rights of private property anyway, if a man can't keep his senate seat after good money has been spent to get it

It looks as if the Allen gang would soon be rounded up. After bagging a judge, they don't care much for small game like sheriffs and deputies.

Lady Warwick says life in America is too speedy, but if she lived over here a little she'd soon be assuring the chauffeur that she'd pay his fine.

A plot is reported in San Diego, Cal., to overthrow the United States government, but it is not yet necessary for congress to escape by the underground passage.

If you get only one delegate out of a dozen, it is obvious that the Money Power must have bought the rest, or the majority would not be so big.

Uncle Sam loves Miss Jappy—at a distance. But this coming over to Magdalena bay is too close a Bunny Hug even for leap year.

Melvin Vaniman persists that he is going to cross the Atlantic in his air ship. He will be all right provided he can swim ashore.

A woman has flown over the English Channel. She was justified in taking extreme measures to get away from the Suffragettes.

If those mountaineers do not stop shooting up the courts, Cuba will be sending an armed force up here to maintain stable government.

The government has issued arms to our citizens in Mexico, but what is most needed is the ability and the willingness to run.

Mr. Roosevelt has been speaking of the Welfare of the Farmer and failed to tell the public how they can get any of it away from him.

Congress has passed the bill for the Children's Bureau. It is at last recognized that even children will grow up to be constituents some day.

The successful campaign manager is the man who can take rainbows and work them off on the public as all wool and a yard wide.

The Democrats, of course, won't approve of the tariff board. The experts who work for it have never carried any caucuses for them.

In about ten years the statues commemorative of the women suffrage movement will show Fair Woman smashing plate glass.

The evils of aristocracy will never be thoroughly eliminated in this country until they fix it so as to give every one an office.

The candidate who only gets one vote never feels much doubt as to where his support comes from.

The Americans down in Mexico must be tired of this soap box government.

As there are forty-eight governors one may still be found willing to accept a nomination as vice president.

Tomorrow would not be Easter if it did not rain.

Therefore, it will be the forecast of this column that April showers will be among us.

From a journalistic viewpoint, there isn't much news in the death of an aviator any more. The real element of surprise comes when you find one alive.

We've promised some of the local sportsmen, including Stewart Beale and Bill Moffett, that we'll not roast the first fisherman any more. Please never ask us to do such a thing again.

Spring is springing.

The first proof was unearthed last night by Alex Williams. With this as a nucleus, we started on a still hunt for more evidence to convince cynical people.

Be it understood at the beginning, that Alex Williams has grown famous as a grower and shipper of the Hoosier banana. Not finding that as profitable as he expected it to be, he threw the business over and took up the business of disposing of Florida bananas. This morning he found a tarantula on one. Now isn't that proof? No?

All right, how's this one? Last night, while on his way home, a resident of North Main street who prefers his name not be mentioned in connection with this column, was attacked by the Main street owl. He flew by said Mainstreet's head and took a nip at his nose.

Well, here's another the marshal of Jersey City was returning home last night via the brick street. He was struck in the Flatrock bridge by a mosquito and terribly wounded. The mosquito is described as one with wings and proboscis like a shoe-maker's needle.

Further proof is deferred at this time.

Still a Modern Woodman

Several members, during the past few days having told me that certain Old-line agents had informed them that I was going to quit the Modern Woodmen and had contracted with a certain Old-line company to act as their agent here, I wish to say that such statements are absolutely false and that if ever I should quit the Woodmen I will not select any Old-line agent to inform the members of that fact. I intend to carry my insurance in the Woodmen, under the new rates because I sincerely believe that it is cheaper than any Old-line company can furnish and is just as safe.

People's Column.

Enough of T. R.

A word about politics in Hancock county. Since the joint senatorial convention in Connersville last week, resulting in the nomination of Chauncey Duncan of Greenfield, for joint senator, which is generally satisfactory to the Republican party, there is a quietude among the local party workers and most eyes are turned to the national candidates. Sentiment is divided between Taft and Roosevelt, while it is true many of the old reliable "wheel horses" of the party are anxiously awaiting the word to pull for the biggest statesman on the planet, Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana. The three men all have their friends who are sincere in their movements. Personally, I am for Beveridge first, Taft second, and as for Roosevelt, we have enough of him at present. As to the State: If a strong man is nominated for governor, and clean men are nominated for the State offices, Indiana will return to the old Republican column in November.

SOCIETY NEWS

The assembly room at the Graham school building was well filled last night when Mrs. Donnan gave her last talk for the season to her study class. The husbands of many of the members were present and greatly enjoyed the privilege of hearing one of Mrs. Donnan's delightful literary talks.

There was the usual half hour of literary gossip in which Mrs. Donnan touched on several magazine contributions that are especially worthy of attention. Following this, she gave a summary of her talks on the drama for the year. These have been devoted to an examination of the structural frame-work of plays, discussing incidentally their literary appeal, philosophy and poetry.

She has set forth the history of the drama in its struggle to reflect the social life of the times and its groping after form and idea.

In the extensive analysis of plays the aim of selection has been to represent as fully as possible the range and extent of the drama in its progress of development from the beginning to the present. Appropriate to the Easter season Mrs. Donnan concluded her talk with a reading of Browning's "Easter-Day."

Mrs. Donnan has many warm friends in Rushville who look forward to her return each fall. She is thoroughly versed in the literature she presents and can point out with clarity its loveliest prospects. One of the charms of her informal talks is the sincerity which puts her hearers in touch with the spiritual beauty of her own character and her unaffected simplicity and broad generous views of life combine to make her exceedingly likable.

Mrs. Donnan will go to Europe early in May to spend the summer in travel and study.

"Oh, thank God!" cried Stephen Maitland fervently.

"I know you don't like me," answered Armstrong. "That's neither here nor there. Perhaps you have cause to dislike me, perhaps you have not. I don't like you any too well myself, but there's no man on earth I'd rather have go with me on a quest of this kind than you, and there's my hand on it."

Kirkby shook it vigorously.

"This ain't committin' myself," he said cautiously. "So far's I'm concerned, you ain't good enough for Miss Maitland, but I admire your spirit, Armstrong, an' I'm goin' with you. Tain't no good, 'twon't produce nothin', most likely we'll never come back agin; but jest the same, I'm goin' along. Nobody's goin' to show me the trail. My nerve and grit, w'en it comes to helpin' a young female like that girl, is as good as anybody's, I guess. You're her father," he drawled, on turning to Stephen Maitland, "an' I ain't no kin to her, but, by gosh, I believe I can understand better than any one else here what you are feelin'."

"Kirkby," said Robert Maitland, smiling at the other two, "you have gone clean back on me. I thought you had more sense. But somehow I guess it's contagious, for I am going along with you two myself."

"And I, cannot I accompany you?" pleaded Stephen Maitland, eagerly drawing near to the other three.

"Not much," said old Kirkby promptly.

"I'm Goin' Into the Mountains With You."

SAFE REMEDY ENDS CATARRH MISERIES

Gives Instant Relief, Cures and Prevents Catarrh and Cold in The Head.

The quickest, best and safest way to cure catarrh or a cold in the head is by using a remedy that will "touch the spot" and do its work quickly without leaving any bad effects. Ely's Cream Balm, which is applied to the nostrils or rubbed on the throat or chest gets right at the root of the trouble and instantly relieves even the worst case of catarrh or cold. A few minutes after applied you can feel a loosening up in the head, the pain and soreness are gone, the sense of taste, smell and hearing come back, and you feel like a different person.

Ely's Cream Balm cleanses, heals and strengthens the inflamed membranes, takes away that stuffed up feeling and dull pain in the head, relieves the throat soreness and stops the nasty discharge which is the cause of the disgusting hawking, spitting, blowing of the nose, and foul breath. Hay fever victims who are made miserable by fits of sneezing, coughing and wheezing get instant and permanent relief by the use of this simple remedy.

Don't suffer another minute. Ely's Cream Balm will relieve you immediately, and a 50 cent bottle will more than likely work a complete cure. All druggists sell it.

"W.M. BERKELY NEWBOLD."

"Thank God!" exclaimed Robert Maitland.

"You called me a fool, Kirkby," said Armstrong, his eyes gleaming. "What do you think of it now?"

"It's the fools, I find," said Kirkby sapiently, "that generally gits there. Providence seems to be a-watchin' over 'em."

"You said you chanced on this paper, Jack," continued Maitland. "It looks like the deliberate intention of Almighty God."

"I reckon so," answered the other, simply. "You see He's got to look after all the fools on earth to keep 'em from doin' too much damage to their selves an' to others in this yere crooked trail of a world."

"Let us start now," urged Armstrong.

"Tain't possible," said the old man, taking another puff at his pipe, and only a glimmering of the eye betrayed the joy that he felt; otherwise his phlegmatic calm was unbroken, his demeanor just as undisturbed as it always was. "We'd jest throw away our lives a-wanderin' round these yere mountains in the dark. We've got to have light, an' clear weather. Ef it should be snowin' in the mornin' we'd have to wait until it cleared."

"I won't wait a minute," said Armstrong. "At daybreak, weather or no we'll start."

FORCED ANARCHISTS TO KISS THE FLAG

Californians Don't Take Kindly to These Fellows.

San Diego, Cal., April 6.—Deputy constables and a large body of armed citizens of San Diego forced nearly one hundred Industrial Workers of the World, all of whom admitted they were anarchists, to kneel on the ground and kiss the folds of an American flag.

The men who were thus forced to show respect to the national emblem composed the party that left Santa Ana on a freight train and whose coming was awaited by the deputies and armed citizens, who had gone out in automobiles to meet them and drive them back.

The Industrial Workers were stopped at San Onofre and detained there. After the flag kissing the Industrial Workers were divided into squads of five and placed in the command of details of deputies. Then the march to the line was started and the procession moved to the tune of "The Star Spangled Banner," in which the Industrial Workers were compelled to make at least a show of joining. At the Orange county line the men who had come from Santa Ana were given a parting caution to keep out of San Diego county. They started north on the railway track.

OFFER TO SELL ALASKAN ROAD

The Guggenheims Desire to Unload On Uncle Sam.

THEY TAKE IT UP WITH TAFT

When Daniel and Simon Called on the President at the White House It is Understood They Indicated a Ready Willingness to Have the Government Take Over Their Copper and Coal Road at Actual Cost to Them.

Washington, April 6.—Apparently as a result of the administration's recommendation that the federal government undertake the construction of a railroad opening up the Alaska coal fields and the interior of the great country, the Guggenheims have offered to sell the Copper River & Northwestern railroad in Alaska to the United States government. The willingness evinced by the Guggenheims to part with this property marks the end of any efforts that may have been put forth to monopolize the great coal deposits of Alaska. The Morgan-Guggenheim interests hope now to persuade the United States government to take over the line and use it as a link in the road proposed by the Taft administration.

A conference was held at the White House on this subject. The Guggenheims were represented by two of the brothers, Daniel and Simon, the United States senator from Colorado. Secretary of the Interior Fisher and President Taft participated in the conference, and Vice President Sherman called to present Daniel Guggenheim to the president.

While the meeting did not develop a flat offer from the Guggenheims, they made it apparent they would be glad to have the government take over the road at the actual cost to them. It is estimated that the Guggenheims have put about $20,000,000 into the railroad, which runs from the port of Cordova back 197 miles to the great bonanza copper mine controlled by the Guggenheim interests. The original purpose in building the road was to open up this copper mine, but the Guggenheims counted on much additional tonnage from the opening up of the Alaska coal fields. Their plan was to build a spur of this road about fifty miles long into the Behring coal fields. These are the fields in which are located the so-called Cunningham claims that led to the scandal in Secretary Ballinger's administration of the interior department. The Guggenheims themselves had an option on these claims, and it had been contended by opponents of the Taft administration that the Guggenheims had intended right along to obtain a monopoly on the Alaska coal fields.

The turning down by Secretary of the Interior Fisher of the Cunningham claims and the action of the department in regard to the so-called Ryan harbor rights on Controller bay were, the Taft enemies have charged, hard blows to the Morgan-Guggenheim interests.

MORE LEVEES AT BREAKING POINT

Hope Abandoned in Many Sections of Flood District.

MEMPHIS FACES INUNDATION

Waters Even Now Are Lapping the Top of the Dike and a Phenomenal Rise in Upper Courses of River Indicate That the Worst Is Yet to Come —"Pocket" Farmers Looking for the Greatest Flood Since That of 1875.

St. Louis, April 6.—For the flood-doomed sections of the lower Mississippi valley there is no relief in sight. All indications are that the water will go higher and that the present damage will be but a detail to what is to follow. These indications are based on reports of phenomenal rises at points above the confluence of the Mississippi and Ohio rivers and weather bureau predictions. A high wind caused the breaking of the government levee six miles below Hickman, Ky. Hickman itself is partly submerged and a majority of its citizens are refugees in nearby towns. The break left hundreds of thousands of dollars damage in its wake. No lives were lost as far as can be ascertained.

Memphis has given up hope, and the city is considered doomed. The waters are within a few inches of the flood stage of forty-five feet, which is the utmost limit at which the levees protecting the city can hold, and are still rising.

The Mississippi is eight miles wide at Quincy. At Evansville the Ohio will reach forty-four feet by Sunday. Farmers living in the bottoms between there and Paducah report great loss of stock. Thousands of acres of growing wheat will be ruined along the lower Ohio and Wabash rivers. White river farmers say they are looking for the worst flood since the great flood of 1875.

Governor Donaghey of Arkansas has sent the adjutant general of the state to the flooded districts to take charge of troops which are working on the levees and rescuing families from the lowlands. Arkansas levees are at the breaking point and a few inches rise will precipitate torrents of water into the lowlands. The entire town of Wyatt, Mo., is under three feet of water. At Cairo the river is rising at the rate of two inches a day. A message from Union City, Tenn., says that the government levee at that place went out and water is now pouring into the Reelfoot lake district, which will flood a territory forty-five to fifty miles long by five to thirty miles wide. A report is current here that there has been considerable loss of life in Mississippi county.

Five Victims of Flood.

Cairo, Ill., April 6.—William Lynn, wife and three children were drowned in the flood. Lynn was a farmer and was overtaken, with his family, by the rising water.

Lost Life in Flood.

Glasgow, Ky., April 6.—While boating on the Cumberland river to get a view of the flood scenes, Miss Allen Alexander was drowned.

REBELS TAKE PARRALL

Conclusion of One of Fiercest Engagements of Present Revolution.

Parrall, Chihuahua, April 6.—When the commands of Generals Salazar and Fernandez raised the rebel flag of the Liberal cause and took formal possession of the city, Parrall fell into the hands of the Mexican rebels, after Pancho Villa's command had slipped out of the city, leaving many dead and wounded and a badly battered town. The rebels in their fighting used their heavy guns to good effect and besides killing and wounding many of the federal defenders, did much damage to the town. In leaving the federalists were forced to abandon a machine gun and the howitzer captured from Campa's rebels when they were repulsed this week.

Firemen Win Their Point.

Lafayette, Ind., April 6.—As a result of the officials of the Monon railroad granting the firemen an increase in wages, there will be no strike. For several weeks a walkout had been imminent and had not the wage increase been granted the firemen would have quit work.

DEATH RECALLS LOCAL SHOOTING

orable to Mr. Wolf's health. He improved for a time, but Bright's disease and dropsy developed which caused him to return home two weeks days he failed rapidly and the early part of the week brought all his children home to attend him.

The remains will lie in state Sunday at the residence in Marion. A short funeral service will be held at the house at ten o'clock Monday. On a special car the same day the body will be taken to Morristown, where the funeral will be held Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the Methodist church at that place. The body will be laid to rest beside those of Mr. Wolf's father, and grandfather in the Morristown cemetery.

With the death of Mr. Wolf the name "Jacob Groves Wolf," which had been a family name for more than two hundred years, becomes extinct. The Wolf family came to America from Holland and until the death of Mr. Wolf there had been a Jacob Groves Wolf in the family for more than two hundred years. There were two persons bearing the name until the death of an uncle of Mr. Wolf's two years ago.

The Wolf family had been millers for at least four generations back, and the first mill owned by J. G. Wolf was the one his father had owned before he died. Before taking up milling Mr. Wolf followed farming for several years. He began the milling business at the age of twenty-five years. He was one of the first men to engage in the wood and coal business when gas began failing. Mr. Wolf was one of the first graduates of Prudy Business college of Indianapolis, the first business school established in Indiana. He had been a devout Christian since twenty years of age.

Death was not unexpected, and all the children were called home. All arrived Monday. Mr. Wolf was conscious until the last. He was a member of the Blue Lodge of Masons and the G. A. R.

The deceased leaves a widow, one daughter, Miss Estella; six sons, Orion O., Honor B. and Carl Wolf, all of Marion; Arthur Wolf of Terre Haute, Ralph Wolf of Fargo, N. D., and Dale Wolf of Grand Forks, N. D.

JAMES E. WATSON ONE OF SPEAKERS

Connersville Commercial Club Gives Banquet to Shippers and Railroad Men.

WATSON IS CONVALESCENT

The Connersville Commercial club gave a banquet in the interest of shippers and railroad men at its club rooms Thursday evening. The rooms were packed and jammed with men, and the spirit of the occasion was such that led the promoters to believe the affair had been a thoroughly enjoyable one. A number of railroad men were there, and gave toasts. James E. Watson responded to a toast. Of it the Connersville News says in part:

The last of the set speeches was delivered by James E. Watson. Midnight was near, and the former congressman had little time. He spoke, however, for five minutes or so in his happiest vein, with humorous illusions to his recent "road rolling" here, and of his convalescence from that operation. He expressed his appreciation of the magnificent event, and said he would come back to Connersville whenever Connersville wanted him. His speech was given in the old-time ringing, tingling, fascinating style that has made "Jim" Watson a synonym for oratory all over the United States.

SAYS HE OBTAINED DIVORCE BY FRAUD

Mrs. Margaret Beaver Asserts John
M. Beaver Made False Affidavit to Get the Decree.

SUIT IS FILED TO ANNUL IT

While in Newcastle yesterday on the way to the funeral of her divorced husband, John M. Beaver, who committed suicide at Knightstown Wednesday, Mrs. Margaret Beaver, asserted to a Newcastle Courier reporter that her former husband obtained a divorce from her through fraud. Several weeks ago Mrs. Beaver brought suit in Newcastle to annul the divorce obtained by the aged recluse.

The fraud charges specify that Beaver made an affidavit that his wife was a non-resident of the State of Indiana and that he alleged that she was a resident of Cincinnati. The wife states that she had never been legally notified of the suit and that she had never abandoned her residence in Henry county.

It was stated that steps would be taken to redeem the property that Beaver had deeded to other persons.

stretching necks and lurking smiles on the countenances of passersby, but went along minding his own business as he had a right to do.

Whether or not he was wearing the straw lid on a bet, or because the sun shone so nice and bright can not be stated. The wearer of the hat was several sizes larger than the newspaper man, hence there was no interview, or rather personal subject.

It can be stated at any rate that the man who wore the hat is an optimist and a hero. No person who was anything else would dare to wear a straw hat on the streets of Rushville on April 6.

The official season for the wearing of straw hats for men opens on Decoration day. Most of the young bloods, however, come out in thatched headgear quite a while before this, sometimes as early as the first of May. It all depends on the season.

The straw hat period closes on Labor day, according to the finest dictates of fashion. If a fellow is broke however, and unable to get a fall bonnet by Labor day, he may wear his straw pile on up until the first of October with perfect safety. After that date it would be a little dangerous to press it upon the outraged public.

With the women, however, the case is different. She gets her first spring hat before Easter. Just how long before depends on the date of Easter and the weather. With regard to straw hats she is not bound by the same shackles of fashion as is mere man. She may wear the straw bonnet as early as she wants to. Hundreds of them are to be seen already on the streets of Rushville and they excite no surprise. But the sight of one masculine headpiece of straw is sufficient to excite a half column of newspaper comment.

Buy Your Buggy From the Man Who Looks After the Small Details That Are So Essential In the Construction of a COMPLETE BUGGY.
